Courierwest committed to being “green”

Everett Washington April 2nd, 2007- Courierwest today announced their commitment to greening it's operations. “We found the single largest impact to the environment of the same day business model is greenhouse gas emissions from the vehicles we use to make deliveries” said Richard Holstein President of Courierwest. “Our fleet purchase of EPA Certified Smartway vehicles could lessen that impact up to 55%.” Holstein added “It not only effects the environment in a positive way, but also our customers. With higher miles per gallon vehicles we can forgo the constant burden of fluctuating fuel surcharges to our customers that have plagued the industry over the last 2 years.”
